About
VINOVE Kitchenware

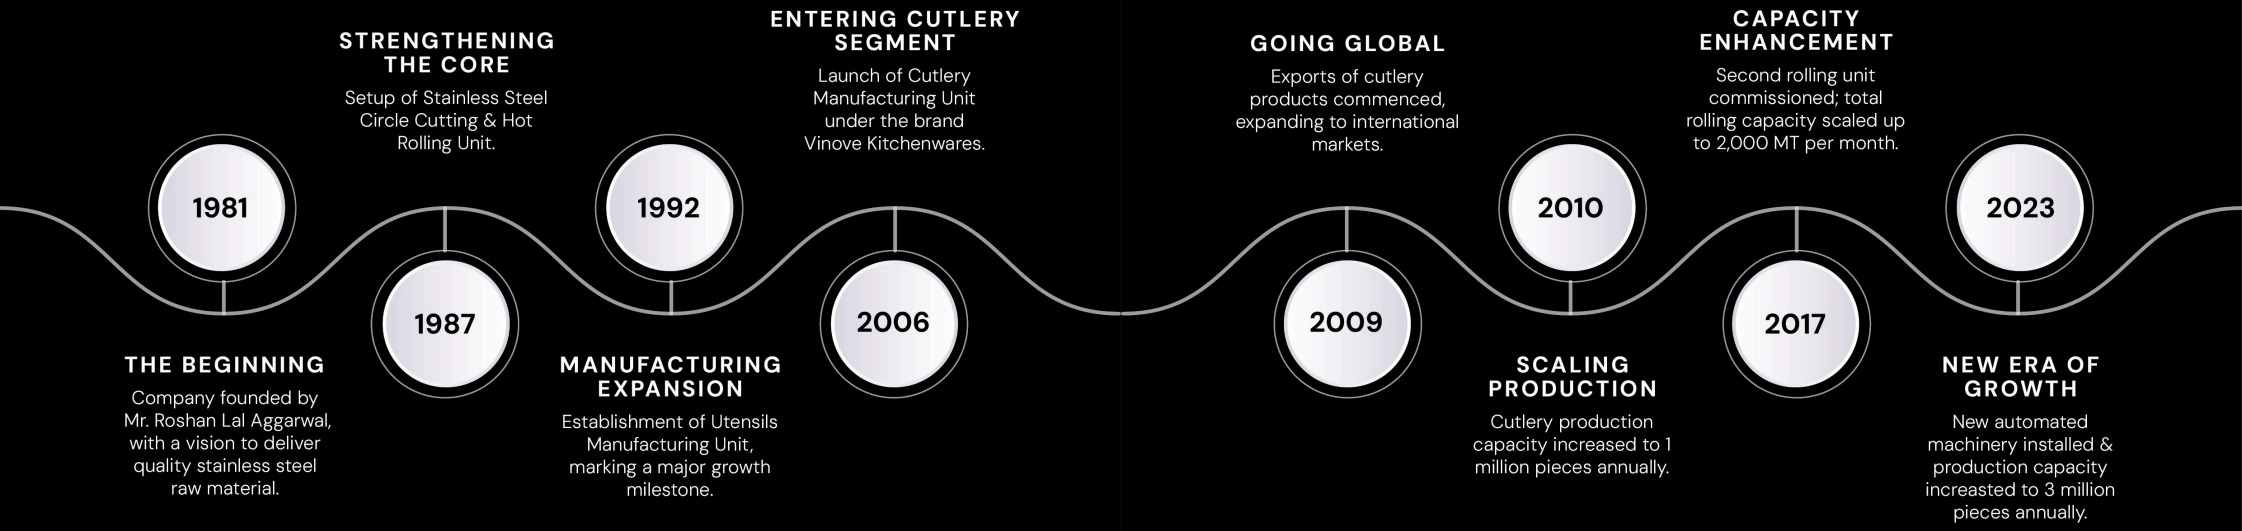

A Globally Trusted Manufacturing Partner

VINOVE Kitchenware is a globally oriented kitchenware manufacturing company from India, known for its scale, consistency, and export-driven excellence.

VINOVE was founded with a clear and enduring vision—to build a manufacturing enterprise capable of meeting international market expectations with precision, reliability, and integrity. Over four decades, the company has evolved into a fully integrated export-focused organization, serving global buyers across multiple markets.

At VINOVE, exports are not a business vertical—they are the foundation of our operations. Every system, process, and investment is aligned to support long-term global partnerships, ensuring consistent quality, scalable production, and dependable delivery timelines.

Our Legacy
& Milestones

Manufacturing
Infrastructure

Integrated, Scalable, Export-Ready

VINOVE operates with complete in-house manufacturing capabilities, allowing end-to-end control over quality and production timelines.

Our infrastructure includes:

- Stainless steel circle cutting units
- Hot rolling units
- Utensil forming and fabrication facilities
- Precision cutlery manufacturing units
- Finishing, polishing, and surface treatment lines
- Tooling, prototyping, and development support for OEM projects

This integrated setup enables operational efficiency, quality consistency, and scalability for export markets.

Production
Capacity & Scalability

Built to Deliver at Scale

VINOVE's infrastructure is designed to support large-volume export requirements.

- Cutlery manufacturing capacity: 3 million pieces annually
- Rolling unit capacity: 2,000 MT per month

Our scalable systems allow us to accommodate growing order volumes while maintaining uniform quality and delivery discipline.

Our Export
Philosophy

Built for Global Markets, Driven by Reliability

VINOVE Kitchenware is built around the realities of global trade.

We understand that international buyers seek more than products—they seek reliability, consistency, and accountability. Our export philosophy is rooted in delivering uniform quality across volumes, adherence to global compliance standards, and strict respect for delivery commitments.

By combining ethical sourcing, in-house manufacturing control, and disciplined execution, VINOVE ensures a seamless export experience for its partners worldwide.
